

Leicestershire
& Rutland
Wildlife Trust

Charnwood Local Group

Wednesday 12th November 2025 at 7.30pm

Communities, Communications and Conservation:

Why we should all be at-least a little optimistic about the future of nature.

Taras Bains (LRWT Trustee)

Drawing from his experience of working with local communities in Uganda, on framing and communicating conservation globally with Conservation Optimism and his current role with the International Union for the Conservation of Nature, Taras will highlight some of the inspiring success stories he has experienced first-hand that should give us all a sense of Optimism in today's world of seemingly ever-declining biodiversity and increasing pressures.

Woodhouse Eaves Village Hall, LE12 8RZ

Admission: £3 for members, £3.50 for non-members, children free

Refreshments included

No booking required - All Welcome